

AWARDS

Ursuline Academy recognizes the significant achievement and participation of its students in academics, athletics, clubs and service. Among the awards available to students in each grade level are the following: the St. Angela Award, presented to students who give of themselves with great generosity and in the true spirit of Ursuline's motto Serviam; the Principal's Award, given in recognition of students who are motivated, who demonstrate responsibility, hard work, and perseverance, who make as much academic progress as they are capable of making, and who strive to reach their potential as best they can; the Service Pin, presented to students who perform 100 hours of service in the community above and beyond the required number of hours for each grade level; and academic awards in each subject. Student achievement in various areas is also recognized by many local and national service organizations, corporations and academic institutions and organizations.

The following are among the awards reserved for seniors and presented at Graduation: the CLC Medal, in recognition of the student who, in the opinion of the faculty, has best exemplified the Ursuline ideals of Courtesy, Loyalty, and Courage; the Sedes Sapientiae Medal, in recognition of the student whose scholarship, achievement and loyalty, in the opinion of the faculty, have been consistent and outstanding; and the Edward A. La Faye Memorial Award for outstanding humanitarian service, determined by vote of the senior class.
